Medical colleges to save 27% seats for OBCs, 10% for EWS

'Landmark decision' will help thousands every year: PM

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 29 July

The government on Thursday announced a 27-per cent quota for OBCs and 10 per cent reservation for the Economically Weaker Section (EWS) category in the All-India Quota (AIQ) scheme for undergraduate and postgraduate medical and dental courses from the current academic year, 2021-22.

Hailing the "landmark decision" taken by his government, Prime Minister Narendra Modi tweeted: "This will immensely help thousands of our youth every year get better opportunities and create a new paradigm of social justice in our country." Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya also lauded the "historic decision". The PM, at a meeting held on Monday, had directed the Union ministries concerned to facilitate an effective solution to this long-pending issue, a statement issued by the health ministry said.

"This decision would benefit nearly 1,500 OBC students in MBBS and 2,500 OBC students in postgraduation and also around 550 EWS students in MBBS and around 1,000 EWS students in postgraduation," it added. "The present

"NEW NATIONAL EDUCATION POLICY ASSURES YOUTH THAT COUNTRY IS COMPLETELY WITH THEM, SUPPORTS THEIR ASPIRATION"

NARENDRA MODI
Prime Minister

1 YEAR OF NEW EDUCATION POLICY

■ 14 engineering colleges in 8 states to start studies in 5 Indian languages

■ PM congratulates everyone on completion of 1 year of NEP

■ Launches Vidya Pravesh, NISHITHA 2.0, SAFAL, and Indian Sign Language as a Subject at secondary level

■ Says NEP can provide proper atmosphere, infrastructure to talented Indian youths

■ Over 300,000 students need sign language in India. So it is being treated as a distinguished subject for the first time government is committed to providing due reservation both to the backward category as well as the EWS category. The Union government has now taken a historic decision to provide for 27 per cent reservation for OBCs and 10 per cent reservation for EWS in the AIQ scheme," the ministry stated.

OBC students from across the country shall now be able to take the benefit of this reservation in the AIQ scheme to compete for seats in any state. Being a central scheme, the Central List of OBCs shall be used for the purpose. The AIQ scheme was introduced in 1986 under the Supreme Court's directions to provide for domicile-free merit-based opportunities to students from any state aspiring to study in a good medical college in another state. The all-India quota consists of 15 per cent of the total available UG seats and 50 per cent of the total available PG seats in government medical colleges. Initially, there was no reservation in the AIQ scheme up to 2007.

Jharkhand judge killed in hit-and-run, SIT to probe

The Jharkhand High Court on Thursday ordered an SIT probe into the death of Dhanbad judge Uttam Anand when he was out for a morning jog the day before. Two persons were arrested on Thursday in connection with the hit-and-run case.

"We have arrested two persons Lakhan Verma and Rahul Verma involved in the incident early Thursday morning. Rahul Verma, a resident of Digwadih, Dhanbad has been arrested from Dhanbad Tempo stand while the other was arrested from Mangrudhi police station area in Giridih," said Senior Superintendent of Police, Dhanbad Sanjiv Kumar.

Kumar said the three-wheeler was also recovered from Giridih and has been registered in the name of a woman. Investigation is on in the case from all possible angles including murder after an FIR filed by the wife of the 49-year-old deceased Judge with the Dhanbad police, Kumar added.

On Wednesday morning, the judicial officer was killed in Jharkhand's Dhanbad district after being hit by a vehicle, police had said.

District and Sessions Judge-8 of Dhanbad court, Uttam Anand, was out on morning walk when the incident happened at Randhir Verma Chowk near the district court in the Sadar police station area, a senior police officer had said. PTI

Biocon...

Biocon Biologics Chairperson Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw said: "We are extremely proud to be the first to obtain approval for an interchangeable biosimilar product in the US. It is a milestone achievement for both Biocon Biologics and our partner Viatrix. This will allow pharmacy-level substitution and thereby provide convenient and affordable access to Semglee."

The USFDA called it a momentous day for people who rely daily on insulin for treatment of diabetes. "Biosimilar and interchangeable biosimilar products have the potential to greatly reduce health care costs," said Acting FDA Commissioner Janet Woodcock.

Typically, biosimilars are marketed in the US at 15-35 per cent lower price than the innovator biological products. Insulin, however, is a complex segment, with high-entry barriers and only a few global players operating in this space, reducing the pricing pressure.

The insulin market in the US is highly concentrated. Only three companies — Novo Nordisk, Sanofi, and Eli Lilly — supply insulin to patients in the US. These three companies, commonly called the 'Big Three', control over 90 per cent of the global insulin market. The remaining share of the global insulin market is split among seven manufacturers.

Based on the reported sales in 2020, insulin glargine

(Lantus and Basaglar) had sales of $4.2 billion globally, of which $1.9 billion was in the US. Some analysts said Biocon could have a 6-15 per cent market share in the insulin glargine segment in the US by FY23.

The interchangeable Semglee product will be introduced before the end of the year, Biocon said. Biocon is also eligible to have exclusivity for 12 months before the USFDA can approve another biosimilar interchangeable to Lantus.

Metals...

Steel production, too, dropped by eight per cent on a QoQ basis. However, despite a decline, the steel industry was on a far superior footing now than in the first quarter of last year, when production had fallen sharply because of a nationwide lockdown, said Jayanta Roy, senior vice-president, ICRA. That's because production in the first quarter of the current financial year is at the pre-Covid level of Q1FY20.

What has put the metals sector in a sweet spot is that current prices of base metals are at a multi-year high.

Base metal prices have rallied significantly. At present, they are higher than their pre-pandemic levels, mainly because of a strong China demand, along with massive stimulus measures in major economies, according to Isha Chaudhary, director, CRISIL Research.

London Metal Exchange (LME) and domestic aluminium prices in Q1FY22 were up 60 per cent and 45 per cent, respectively, over a year earlier, according to CRISIL Research. LME and domestic copper prices were up 82 per cent and 77 per cent during the same period, as the metal witnessed a dual shock of demand pull and supply concerns in Latin America. LME and domestic zinc prices were up 49 per cent and 55 per cent, respectively, supported by a strong demand from China as well as the domestic steel sector (zinc is a major end-use segment for steel).

Steel prices in the domestic market saw some moderation during the first quarter due to the second Covid-19 wave in India. But prices of hot-rolled coil — a benchmark for flat steel — still rose by 23 per cent in Q1FY22 when compared with the previous quarter, and 69 per cent year on year (YoY). Thermo-mechanically treated bar prices in the long steel segment increased by 7 per cent, as construction activities were affected by localised lockdowns. Its prices were up 69 per cent on a YoY basis.

Domestic steel prices, according to CRISIL Research's Chaudhary, were at an all-time high, and prices in the global market were at their 2008 levels — the highest in 13 years. "In earlier cycles, when commodity prices went up, the rise was driven by oil and gold. This time, it is because of metals," said Seshagiri Rao, joint managing director and group chief financial officer, JSW Steel.

What is driving metals is large infrastructure spending by various governments (which requires a huge amount of steel), and energy transition across the world for decarbonisation. The same factors are fuelling demand for base metals and driving prices. On the decarbonisation front, the electric vehicle push is spurring a demand for copper. Additionally, the use of electrical energy instead of fossil fuels means more use of copper and aluminium.

The last boom in metals had continued unabated from 2003 to 2008, led by a heavy demand from China, which roughly consumes half the metals used in infrastructure. But companies believe that the changes are structural this time, and therefore more sustainable.

Tata Steel Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) T V Narendran said: "The rally in steel prices is driven by both demand-side and supply-side drivers. So, it is more structural, and more likely to endure, than the rally in 2008."

Rahul Sharma, deputy CEO (aluminium business), Vedanta, said: "Major consumer sectors are showing a firm recovery, and domestic demand is picking up well."

India has the second-largest annual aluminium production capacity in the world, at 4.1 million tonnes, operating at almost 90 per cent capacity utilisation.

Tata Sons...

They are switches and routers, among others. Tejas is also a vendor for Tata Communications and supplies equipment to others.

"There will not be any merger with Tata Communications as Tejas's other customers may not be interested in sharing knowledge and outlook with their competitor (Tata Communications)," said an industry analyst.

Tata Sons recently signed an agreement with Bharti Airtel for developing software for 5G deployment.

"We see the Tatas are building a telecom networking business with an open stack platform. Tejas, therefore, fits into the Tatas' ambition to cash in on opportunities in the 5G segment," said the analyst.

Cognizant...

CEO Brian Humphries said the company expected to hire approximately 100,000 laterals and train close to 100,000 associates this year. "In addition, we expect to onboard approximately 30,000 new graduates in 2021 and make 45,000 offers to new graduates in India for 2022 onboarding," he stated.

If attained, this would perhaps be the biggest hiring binge in the IT services sector in terms of numbers. "In India talent is in abundance, but what matters is the quality of talent. The area in which Cognizant wants to ramp up is already suffering due to dearth of quality talent. The number that it's hiring will finally allow the company to create the next line of people with high-end talent," said Pareekh Jain, founder Pareekh Consulting.

Rituparna Chakraborty, co-founder and executive V-P, Teamlease Services, said the IT services sector was seeing huge volatility on skills aspect. "The only way companies can quickly ramp up demand for people is hiring laterals," she pointed out.

Cognizant is talking of steps to reduce attrition that includes compensation adjustments, job rotations, re-skilling and promotions. "Fortunately, we meaningfully increased our recruiting capacity over the last six months as we anticipated the spike in attrition, following the V-shaped demand recovery in the second half of 2020," said Humphries.

In a recent interview to Business Standard, V V Apparao, chief human resources officer at HCL Technologies, explained the current supply side. "Every company is sitting on deals that are three times what they see... The war of talent is for the people in the range of three-four of experience and that pool is finite," he said.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL RESULTS:

- The above results have been reviewed by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at their meeting held on July 29, 2021. The Statutory Auditors of the Company have carried out a limited review of the results for the quarter ended June 30, 2021.
- The above is an extract of the detailed format of the financial results for the quarter ended on June 30, 2021 filed with the Stock Exchanges under Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015.
- The shipping and offshore operations of the Group have continued albeit with certain challenges due to restrictions/lockdowns following Covid 19 outbreak. The challenges mainly include travel restrictions on Indian seafarers and inefficient routing of vessels for crew changes, leading to additional costs. The Company has considered the possible effects that may result from the covid 19 pandemic in preparation of these financial results, including recoverability of assets, and expects their carrying amounts to be recoverable. The impact of COVID-19 may be different from that estimated as at the date of approval of these financial results.
- The Code on Social Security, 2020 ("Code") relating to employee benefits during employment and post-employment benefits received Presidential assent in September 2020. The Code has been published in the Gazette of India. However, the date on which the Code will come into effect has not been notified. The Company will assess the impact of the Code when it comes into effect and will record any related impact in the period the Code becomes effective.
- The full format of the results for the quarter ended June 30, 2021, are available on the Bombay Stock Exchange website (URL:www.bseindia.com/corporates), the National Stock Exchange website (URL:www.nseindia.com/corporates) and on the Company website (URL:www.greatship.com/financial_result.html).
